

After Halloween

I'll have to prop my reeling brain. I wonder if I'm strictly sane? Not in the winecup do I look; my drink is from the babbling brook that courses by my humble home; it's long since I have blown the foam from brimming flagons at the bar, or pulled the cork from jug or jar. I go not where Bacchante sings, and yet, alas, I'm seeing things. Is that a cow in yonder tree, or have my eyes gone back on me? Since when did crows begin to perch in yonder elm beside the church? And there's a horse that makes me blink; its form is blue, its tail is pink; when steeds chromatic drift along, I'm almost sure there's something wrong. Mark that old rooster on the fence—no feathers are in evidence. When Brahma roosters are as bare of plumage as a Bartlett pear, methinks the world is in the ditch; some warlock runs it, or a witch. I'll have to have an expert look for microbes in that babbling brook. When water makes him see such freaks, some other drink the wise man seeks. These dire phantasms I must foil—I'll fill myself with linseed oil.

THIRD SADDLE REUNION HAS LARGER ATTENDANCE

Many Take Advantage of Fine Weather to Enjoy a Virginia Ride and the Assembly in the Park.

A larger number of horsemen and horsewomen turned out in Rock Creek Park yesterday than on any other Sunday since the establishment of the park. The participation in the morning riding was satisfactory and the attendance at the afternoon assembly was large. It was the third saddle reunion.

In the morning, under the lead of Mr. Zielinski, a party of men and women students of George Washington University rode through a part of Virginia near Washington and a number of points were joined by groups of Virginia riders. Some of those who went from Washington with Mr. Zielinski were Miss Nellie Sherwood, Miss Anne Regan, Miss Margaret Fisher, Miss Sue H. Murray, Leon A. Taskay and J. W. Carter.

The party traveled through Clarendon, Ballston, Fort Myer, the National cemetery and after returning to Washington by way of the Highway bridge crossed over the saddle path of Potomac Park.

Ten Miles of Fine Woodland. The afternoon riding in Rock Creek Park was under the direction of Donald E. Kleps, C. X. Brands and Carl M. J. von Zielinski.

In the party that started from Pierce Mill at 3 o'clock, were the Misses Worner, Miss Antonette Jarrett, Miss Ina Bowers, Miss Della Le. Miss F. Schneider, Miss MacKinnon, Capt. Maxwell and J. F. Moore, T. H. Pink, E. D. Hobbs, J. E. Guern, M. J. Kahn, C. F. Chisholm, Master Hale Chisholm, W. A. Bobb, Jay Conner and Walter Brown.

The riders covered about ten miles of fine woodland ground, and near the end of the ride enjoyed refreshments provided by Mr. Brown.

At least 100 men and women were riding in the park, who had been called back to the saddle by the saddle revival campaign.

Among them was Kennedy F. Rea, clerk of the Senate committee on appropriations. He told one of the saddle revivalists that he had not been in the saddle for twenty-five years, but had come back to stay.

Onlookers Watch the Riders. Quite a number of onlookers gathered at Pierce Mill to watch the riders as they assembled and rode off. Mrs. Capron, one of the distinguished horsewomen of the city, spoke many pleasant and encouraging words to the promoters of the back-to-the-saddle men and women.

At one point along the trail near the head of the park on the side of Rock Creek Dr. J. C. Boyd, U. S. N., re-expressed his gratification that so many people were being drawn to the great outdoors. Dr. Boyd is a daily rider in the park.

A new route will be picked out for the riders next Sunday.

HEROISM OF FIGHTING MEN. Theme of Rev. John Van Schaick in Discussing Foreign War.

The heroism of the fighting men of Europe was praised by Rev. John Van Schaick, Jr., who recently returned from a trip abroad, in a sermon at the Church of Our Father last night.

Dr. Van Schaick said, in part: "My months abroad have not weakened my faith, but have strengthened it. I have seen, not simply the brutality of man, but his nobility. I have seen the things that strengthen our faith in man and in God, and make us see that man is made in the image of God."

NEW PIER TO BE READY SOME TIME NEXT MONTH

Greater Portion of Concrete Work at the Foot of 11th Street Is Completed.

Unless the calculations of those in charge of the building of the new fish and oyster wharves go astray, one of the new piers will be completed and ready for use next month. The greater portion of the concrete work on the pier has been completed, even to the laying of the platform, so that a good idea of what the new pier will look like can now be obtained. In all, three piers are to be built at the 11th street wharf market. The old oyster wharf has not yet been touched, but it is probable it will be removed on the completion of the new lumber pier, which will be used for the time being for handling oysters. It is stated that efforts will be made to have the oyster wharf made considerably lower than the pier now nearing completion. This pier, the oystermen say, will be several feet above the deck of the oyster run boats, even on a high tide, and will make lifting of the oyster baskets from the vessel to the wharf platform a difficult matter. It is said that the wharf is to be completed at about four feet too high to suit the convenience of the oystermen and fishermen.

Earth Shocks Recorded. Disturbance Thought to Be in Northeastern Siberia or Japan.

A series of severe earth shocks were recorded by the Georgetown University's seismograph here early today, which lasted for about three hours. The first shock was felt at 2:49 a.m. The main phase of all the shocks was felt at 3:24 o'clock, the tremors dying away at 5:21. The disturbance is roughly estimated to have been about 4,000 miles from Washington. The record indicated that the earthquake was an exceptionally severe one. Francis A. Tondor, the seismological observer, said the shocks must have been disastrous, judging from the indications on the peculiar record. He thought the quake probably centered in northeastern Siberia or Japan, where shocks of varying intensity are of almost daily occurrence.

WANDERLUSTERS FINISH ENTERTAINMENT PLANS

Home Talent to Contribute to Program Wednesday—Enjoyable Outing Held Yesterday.

With plans practically complete for the entertainment to be given by the wanderlusters Wednesday evening at 7:30 o'clock at the Masonic Hall, 523 8th street northeast, the walk lovers are looking forward to it with interest. The affair is free, of course, and all interested persons will be made welcome.

A reception committee of thirty-two persons will be on hand. "Home talent" is to contribute songs, recitations, whistling and brief addresses.

Following is the "official" account of the outing yesterday: "A crowd of 175 on yesterday's stroll through the upper valley of Rock Creek would indicate that the wanderlust movement in Washington is still very much alive. John Boyle led us from the completed Walter Reed Hospital through some new trails above 16th street extended and, crossing the creek, followed it on the bank to Beach drive. From here the north bank of the creek was followed by trails which made plans for a convention to be held in the valley of Rock Creek. The wonderful valley of Rock Creek is large enough to accommodate both, and many of the new members much yet to learn of this great natural park, even those of us somewhat acquainted with it. We passed through the Red River birch district, where the cowboys abound in the spring. Then at a rather shaky affair of a bridge we crossed, in relay of three, to the other side and followed country roads and shady lanes to Chevy Chase Circle, our progress being barred to make our destination at the lake as originally planned. In all, a walk of six miles, with therabouts, and a most delightful one."

CHOSEN AS DELEGATES. Morris Freilicoff to Attend National Jewish Congress Convention.

Morris Freilicoff of this city was yesterday chosen a delegate to the convention of organizations comprising the national Jewish congress committee, which is to hold a preliminary meeting in New York early this month to make plans for a convention to be held later. Mr. Freilicoff's election took place at a meeting held in Pythian Temple of the Jewish societies of the District. The care of the destitute Jews of Russia and Rumania after the close of the war is the main business to be considered by the coming gathering. The newly chosen delegate was instructed to invite the national convention to Washington.

It was announced that Rabbi D. Abramowitz of St. Louis and Rabbi Levin of Detroit will be speakers at a meeting in the interest of the American Mizrochi section of the Zionists, at 7:30 o'clock tomorrow evening at the Above the Clouds congregation, 5th and I streets northwest. Rabbi Abramowitz is head of the Mizrochi movement.
